STATEMENT OF FACTS

The defendant, Alan Saleh Morning (aka "Saleh Karazeh") while in Egypt, completed a U.S. passport application known as a DS-11, on or about June 29, 2005, in which he falsely stated that his previous U.S. passport, numbered 159336767 was stolen while in Egypt. As a result, passport numbered 711228515 was issued to the defendant at the U.S. Embassy in Egypt on August 29, 2005. On June 29, 2007, the defendant entered the United States at JFK International Airport in New York. During a secondary search, officers from Customs and Border Patrol (CBP) located passport numbered 159336767 among his personal belongings.

The defendant, while in Egypt, completed a U.S. passport application on or about April 2, 2006, in which he fraudulently omitted any aliases or other names that he has used. Section 17 of the passport application requests "Other Names You Have Used." The defendant left this section blank. Your affiant knows this to be false. Immigration records reflect that the defendant entered the United States on or about July 7, 1971. At that time, his name was Saleh Mohammad Karazeh. On or about August 19, 1974, the defendant legally changed his name to Saleh Med Cherry. On or about February 25, 1977, the defendant legally changed his name to Harry Saleh Cherry Adamson. On or about September 20, 1979, the defendant legally changed his name to Alan Saleh Morning. On June 29, 2007, the defendant, as detailed above, was searched by CBP. The CBP officers located a Syrian passport and a Texas driver's license. Both documents pictured the defendant and were in the name of Saleh Karazeh. The Texas driver's license was issued on August 30, 1999. As a result of this application, U.S. passport numbered 711254307 was issued to the defendant on April 12, 2006.

On February 28, 2008, the defendant was stopped by CBP at Chicago O'Hare International Airport. During a secondary search, CBP officers located an apparently valid Syrian passport in the name of Saleh Karazeh. The passport, which pictured the defendant, was issued in 1997 and was due to expire in 2009.
